1963 Feed Grain Program

Growers who participate in the 1963 feed grain program will have four definite advantages over growers who elect not to participate, according to J. A. Martin, Chairman, Appomattox County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

These advantages he described as:

1. Price support will be available for the participating grower's 1963 production of corn, grain sorghum, and barley.

2. A substantial income from the acres diverted is assumed regardless of drought, flood, insects, hail, or crop disease.

3. The price - support payment on the established yield of the planted acreage is also assured.

4. An advance payment of part of the diversion payment, at the participant's request, will be made at the time of signing up or as soon as possible after that time.

A grower participating in the feed grain program, the Chairman explained, reduces his acreage of corn, grain sorghum, and barley by at least 20 percent of his farm's feed grain base acreage, and devotes this diverted acreage to a conserving use.

The first step necessary to take part in the program, however, is signing an intention-to-participate form at the ASCS County Office. The signup period extends through March 22.

Fratrick Named County Blood Collection Chm.

"Appomattox is threatened with loss of memoership in the Red Cross blood program," said Dr. A. A. Fratrick on Saturday. His statement followed closely upon his being appointed county blood collection chairman, replacing Jim Cobb, Pamplin, who resigned recently.

William Hunter, county Red Cross chairman, also reported on Monday that blood donations have been so low the past 12 months during the Bloodmobile's visits that the Field Director for the program, Donald Bowles has voiced his concern over the future of Appomattox' part in the state - wide Blood Program.

The Red Cross Bloodmobile is scheduled for a visit here on Friday, March 22nd. Town Councilman Ivey Holland added his concern about the program Monday by stating that vigorous measures should be taken to publicize the Bloodmobile's visit in order that all physically able persons will donate and bring this county up to its quota.

License Plates On Sale Friday

Motorists may begin buying their 1963 state license plates tomorrow, Friday, at the T. Hunter Dickerson Store on Court Street, Appomattox.

Grover Smith, of the Va. Division of Motor Vehicles, says that as in the past, state passenger car license plates will cost $10 when accompanied by a correctly executed insurance certification found on the back of the application for license. Those motorists who intend to license a motor vehicle for which there is no automobile liability insurance coverage in effect must pay an additional $20 above the cost of the license plates to furnish protection to the individual paying this fee.

State law requires that for a motor vehicle to be claimed as insured, there must be a standard policy of $15,000 insurance to cover any one person injured in an accident, $30,000 coverage for more than one injured in a particular accident, and $5,000 for property damage. These are minimum limits, and coverages below these figures are not sufficient to comply with the law.

The local license headquarters will be open from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Saturday until deadline date for display of 1962 plates, which is midnight, April 15.

County Faces Blood Program Emergency

Red Cross chairman William Hunter says that the county's Blood Donation total of 114 pints during the Bloodmobile's last two visits is only 35.8 percent of the county's quota. A minimum of 190 pints for the forthcoming Bloodmobile visit March 22nd is absolutely necessary, he says, to maintain Appomattox in the program. "If we receive less than 190 pints," Hunter added, "this county will be on probation."

This means that only the immediate families of donors or other persons designated by them will receive free blood donations when they need it. Average cost of a pint of blood to a county resident may be $45 to $50 without the Red Cross cooperative program now in effect.

Emergency Meeting

An emergency meeting was scheduled for Red Cross volunteers last night at Farmer's National Bank, Appomattox, to plan ways to get more volunteers for the Bloodmobile visit March 22.

Hunter said that Jim Cobb, former Blood program chairman had done an admirable job in recruiting for the Bloodmobile. He explained that business duties prevent Cobb from continuing as chairman. Both Cobb and Hunter have asked each citizen's help in working with the new county Blood chairman, Dr. A. A. Fratrick, in meeting the county's quota of 190 pints.

DAR To Meet

Local chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution will meet Monday, March 18, at 3:15 p.m. at the home the regent, Mrs. J. B. Terry.

Road Requests Heard By Appomattox Supervisors

More than 60 people filled the Appomattox Court House Wednesday morning to make road requests of the County Supervisors for the '63-'64 fiscal year.

By press time Wednesday four requests from the Stonewall district had been heard.

Palmer Explains Program

C. A. Palmer, resident engineer for the Va. Dept. of Highways spoke first. "Our first obligation is to maintain existing roads," Palmer said. Because of extreme weather conditions over the past several weeks he stated that the department anticipates an additional $23,000 will be necessary to restore county roads. The current budget allows $134,000 this fiscal year.

One mile of secondary road in Appomattox produces $84 per year, if that road carries at least 50 vehicles per day, Palmer said. Average cost for maintenance on that same mile is $411.

84 in 5 Years

Fourty - four miles of county roads have been surface treated in the past five years, Palmer said.

The County Supervisors will appoint a Board of Viewers to review the roads and requests to determine "which roads render the most public service for the least expenditure," Palmer said. A deed of dedication must be recorded in the Clerk of Court's office prior to July 1, 1963, Palmer said for a road to be eligible for improvement or construction this coming fiscal year, '63-'64 end, closest to 460.

First to be heard was H. B. Scruggs, Concord, requesting improved road on Route 607 from 606 soutwest to 609, Stonewall District. Scruggs asked that improvement start at the southern end, closet to 460.

Second was A. P. Elliott, asking for improvement to 667 from 606 south to 460 Stonewall District. He was informed that 7 tenths of a mile has already been set up for improvement before July 1st.

Another spokesman for a petitioning group asked for improvements to 664 from 60 to Rt. 26.

New Road Asked

County game warden Charles Torrence asked for a road to be built from 605 in the northwest boundary of the county to the James River. M. A. Hooker, assistant to Torrence said, "That spot has the best fishing in four counties." Both men forsee possibilities for a public recreaton area in that location.

Soldier Wears Appomattox Cap

About 3:30 Monday morning, the Appomattox State Police Division received a call from Lynchburg that the World War I soldier, central figure on Lynchburg's Monument Terrace was wearing a new type of helmet. An Appomattox trash container bearing the words, "Help Keep Appomattox Clean" had been placed on the bronze soldier's head, all but covering up the regulation helmet on the statue.

Appomattox Town Manager Charles Hunter said that because the bottom of the container is rusted and in the case of older types now being discarded by the town, it will not be set up again for use.

The Lynchburg police station is located barely 100 feet from the base of the monument where pranksters had placed the newest in cold weather protection for hardfighting monument soldiers.
